

Master's Research (CHEN E9400)

Research is not required in your MS program and it is not something to be done by everyone. Asking a professor to sign this form means that you understand that access to her or his research laboratory is a privilege that carries certain obligations to the professor and to laboratory colleagues. Your efforts should be serious and sustained; don't start something that you do not intend to complete. You must follow laboratory and institutional rules and keep yourself and your colleagues safe. You should maintain records of your work and must not use the laboratory for any unannounced purpose.
